Advised master's students on research design, analysis, and professional report production.

Selected Student Feedback:

“Professor Pedigo is a master class in effective and practical teaching. His class is among the few courses at LBJ where I am truly taking away new skills. His teaching style and course structure are highly effective and engaging.”

— Policy Research Lab, Fall 2025

“Pedigo really wants his students to learn, which makes the class deeply enriching. He is willing to make time to ensure everyone has what they need to be successful.”

— Policy Research Lab, Fall 2025

“Steven provided a truly enriching experience for our class. It genuinely felt as though we were consultants working with real clients. He gave us the autonomy to develop our projects while offering guidance throughout the process. This is exactly the experience I hoped for when I chose the LBJ School.”

— Policy Research Lab, Spring 2025

“This was the most valuable course I took at LBJ in terms of professional development. The class bridged coursework and real-world application, from scoping projects to managing client relationships. Steven is also the most organized and communicative instructor I've had.”

— Policy Research Lab, Fall 2024

“I appreciated the balance Steven struck between guidance and letting us grapple with the ambiguity of consulting and team-based work. It was challenging at times, but we are better for the hands-off yet supportive approach he maintained.”

— Policy Research Lab, Fall 2024

“Professor Pedigo was highly accessible and supportive. He acted as a mentor early in my time at UT and helped me settle into college. Nothing but the highest marks.”

— Who's Your City? 2024

“Pedigo teaches differently from other professors at the LBJ School, which makes his classes invaluable.”

— The New Role of Anchor Institutions, Fall 2022

“Professor Pedigo has created a Policy Research Lab model that is rigorous and meaningful to my academic and professional development. I truly felt like I was practicing the skills required of a policy professional, project manager, and consultant.”

— Policy Research Lab, Fall 2022

“Urban Economic Development is a must-take course for MPAff students because of its excellent organization and Professor Pedigo’s ability to pair theory with immediate, applied work. The course rapidly moves students from learning to doing.”

— Urban Economic Development, 2021

“Hands down my favorite class of the semester. The structure and sequencing of the course played a huge role in my learning, and the practical orientation helped me absorb more than any other class.”

— Urban Economic Development, 2021

“This was my favorite class of the semester. It was engaging and full of thoughtful discussion. I improved my presentation and collaboration skills while learning a great deal about cities.”

— Who’s Your City? 2021

“This class expanded my understanding of qualitative research, consulting best practices, and collaborative work. It taught tangible skills while engaging deeply with social inequity—an essential combination for policy students.”

— City and Public Consulting, Spring 2021

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY | NYU SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL STUDIES AND SCHACK INSTITUTE OF REAL ESTATE

Real Estate and Urban Development (Undergraduate)

Spring 2016, Spring 2017, Spring 2018, Spring 2019

Urban Economic Development (Graduate)

Fall 2014, Fall 2015, Spring 2016, Fall 2016, Spring 2017, Fall 2017, Spring 2018, Fall 2018, Spring 2019, Summer 2019, Summer 2020, January Term 2021

Advanced course examining economic development strategy, competitiveness, and inclusive growth, with emphasis on cities, regions, and implementation.

Global Field Intensive: Real Estate and Capital Markets in Buenos Aires (Graduate)

Spring 2019

Designed and led an international, field-based course examining urban development, real estate investment dynamics, and place strategy through direct engagement in Buenos Aires.

Principles of Economic Development (Executive)

Spring 2016, Spring 2017, Spring 2018

A required executive course for the NYU Cities Diploma, focused on the fundamentals of economic development for mid-career professionals.

Selected Student Feedback:

“Assignments had clear objectives while giving us the freedom to shape our own approach. Presenting our work, receiving feedback, and revising it helped me learn through practice and improvement.”

— Real Estate and Urban Economic Development, Spring 2018

“Steven was highly engaged and clearly cared about keeping students focused and on track. The class was consistently engaging, with strong follow-up and communication throughout the semester.”

— Urban Economic Development, Fall 2017

"Steven brought deep theoretical knowledge and, more importantly, real-world, applied experience to the class. His accessibility and support made the course both encouraging and valuable."
— Principles of Economic Development, Spring 2017

CENTRO DE ESTUDIOS SUPERIORES DE DISEÑO DE MONTERREY (CEDIM)
